

Types of documentation that provide proof of payment

1. A zero-balance invoice showing payment received
2. A bill showing previous balance paid will cover the previous balance
3. A cancelled check showing both front and back that matches invoice (please black out account number)
4. An invoice marked paid by the company receiving payment Wire transfer documentation (please black out account number)
5. Receipt showing payment (Examples: Cash receipt, online receipt showing credit card payment)
6. A letter from the payee confirming account has been paid referencing total amount and invoice number
7. Credit card statement showing purchase amount and vendor information (please black out account number)
8. Image of the original check with check number, accompanied by a bank statement showing check number clearing (please black out account numbers)